"The research and background information provided to explain the new branding is fabulous. The font and color choices seem to be a perfect fit for this community. They appeal to both residents and outsiders like myself. The staff and design team knocked this out of the park! I really loved the overall outcome of this project. The graphic design strikes a balance between masculine and feminine, appealing to a broad audience while having a fresh and dynamic feel. Really well done!"

"This project is a true win! Great job finding a modern theme that "pops" and brings freshness to the event, but still connects to the history of aviation. Please expand more on your budget in your submission – every project has a cost, even if it's all produced in-house. Congrats!"
